

Alex Munnoch has been a consultant plastic surgeon at Ninewells Hospital, Dundee, Scotland for the past 13 years. A graduate of Dundee University, he is also a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh. He has been providing a surgical treatment option for lymphoedema patients for 12 years. He has presented his results at numerous national & international conferences. He helped develop the surgical lymphoedema service at Macquarrie University Hospital in Sydney, where he holds the position of Honorary Professor. He is a former chair of the British Lymphology Society and is currently a member of the executive committee of the International Lymphology Society. He is a medical adviser to the LSN & Lipoedema UK and is currently Patron of TalkLipoedema. His areas of interest are breast reconstruction, microsurgery, lasers, vascular malformations and lymphoedema.